

For Immediate Release

January, 31st, 2017

House of Clues “Escape Room” announces the opening of its first location at 737 East Market Street in Harrisonburg.

Harrisonburg, VA: The House of Clues escape room is a live-action adventure where participants are “locked” in a room with up to 10 friends and family and have 60 minutes to unravel the goal of the game. Using logic and only the elements found in the room, they may have to find the hidden way out, discover a lost treasure, or thwart the bad guys! Clues and puzzles lead to codes and hidden components, and the clock is ticking. Twists and turns have players gasping in shock or laughing in surprise!

Escape games are the newest form of interactive fun and are sweeping the nation. House of Clues is the first adventure of its kind in Harrisonburg. During the 60 minutes in the game, players will forget the outside world and be immersed in the thrill of an adventure the like of which they haven’t had in a long time, if ever. Time seems to be gone in a flash; or has time been standing still? Players use ingenuity, keen observation, effective communication, and teamwork. They either vanquish the game together or.... are doomed to failure together.

Players will collaborate in creative ways, see who keeps cool under pressure, and discover each other’s strengths. This adventure is a wonderful bonding experience that family and friends will still be talking about long after they have left the game. Role playing along with a real-life mystery transports players back to a time when we interacted face-to-face and just had a good time together without interference from the outside world. Yet, gamers will feel like they are in a real-life game with the best 3D action, fetch quests, and natural controls ever, with no DLCs to buy or updates to wait on.

A unique, safe, and controlled environment where all rooms are not actually locked, and players are able to leave at any time if needed. Games can be booked for groups of 2-10 players. Children 8 and older are welcome to play along with their families, but the youngest groups need to be made of players who are at least 15 years old. People of all ages enjoy these games. These games are being widely used for corporate team building.

Booking is made directly on the booking page of the website. Cost is $25 per person, and if players want to assure they will not have other players in the game with them, they can book all 10 tickets to have the room to themselves. The booking page has hours of operation to choose from, but other appointments may also be made.

For media inquires contact: Aaron Einstein 540 810-5236
For booking information go to www.harrisonburgescaperoom.com

#